

Let's celebrate diversity!

Have you noticed everyone you see and meet is unique? They may look different from you, use equipment to move around or speak a different language.

Diversity is about all these differences between people. Where we come from and what we look like is one of the ways people are diverse.

Diversity makes our world exciting. There's always something new to learn about different cultures and how they understand and celebrate life.

Diversity is something to celebrate, not fear. How boring would the world be if everyone ate the same food, dressed the same, and listened to the same band?

Diversity means we feel included and comfortable being ourselves. We should celebrate our differences, because that's what makes us unique!
